3. Explain how the board of directors plan for the succession of the CEO/Managing Director/President and the top key management positions?

The Company's Board and the Nomination Committee are responsible for overall guidance and direction on succession planning and leadership development of the President/CEO and Senior Management. The Chairman of the Board and of the Nomination Committee, the President and CEO, working closely with the Head of Human Resources, drives the strategy for succession planning, leadership development and talent management. The Head of Human Resources develops and implements the processes and the tools to ensure robust pools of succession candidates for the President/CEO, Senior Management, Middle Management and First Line Management.

A key feature of the Company's succession planning process are the talent reviews that are conducted at Senior Management and at various levels in the organization. Currently, this has resulted in a pool of internal candidates, in addition to external candidates who, may be identified, and subject to the realization of their development plans, could become management committee level within the next 5 years.

The talent reviews have been a hallmark of our process and is a best in class talent management practice. The process deliverables are individual development plans designed to bring the key talent to their next level of growth and performance and/or realize their career aspirations. It involves authentic and extensive management discussions and deliberations by leaders of these key talents on their aspirations, strengths, development needs and challenges.

All of these have created a development mindset throughout the organization and have established a strong and robust leadership pipeline that will adequately meet the Company's senior leadership requirements well into the future.

4. Other Executive, Non-Executive and Independent Directors

Does the company have a policy of ensuring diversity of experience and background of directors in the board? Please explain.

Yes. The Company is committed to ensuring that there is a diverse and inclusive workforce who is capable of fulfilling the employees', customers' and shareholders' expectations while building a sustainable future for the business.

Does it ensure that at least one non-executive director has an experience in the sector or industry the company belongs to? Please explain.

We have several non-executive directors who possess the competence and experience in the field of broadcasting or broadcasting-related disciplines. This can be gauged from the respective business experiences of the Company's Directors during the past five (5) years, as these are described in the appropriate section of the 2015 SEC Form 20-IS, Information Statement.

Define and clarify the roles, accountabilities and deliverables of the Executive, Non-executive and Independent Directors:

	Executive	Non-Executive	Independent Director
Role	The Executive Director presents the Company's performance to the Board. He serves as the link between the Management and the Board. Executive directors have a dual role as officers of the company and as directors.	The Board of Directors is primarily responsible for the governance of the Company. Corollary to setting the policies for the accomplishment of the corporate objectives, it shall provide an independent check on Management. a. The Board should establish the Company's vision, mission, strategic objectives, policies and procedures that shall guide its activities, including the mechanisms for effective monitoring of the Management's performance. b. A director's office is one of trust and confidence. He shall act in a manner characterized by transparency, accountability, integrity, and fairness. To ensure a high standard of best practice	Independent Directors perform the same roles, duties and responsibilities of Non-Executive Directors. However, they play crucial role in ensuring that the board appropriate scrutiny over management and shareholders (in their capacity as owners of the company). They are individuals who do not maintain close ties with the management and expected to ensure potential conflict of interests between managers and shareholders are avoided or prevented. They are likewise expected to be able to provide independent judgment and outside experience and objectivity, not subordinated to operational considerations, on all issues which come before the Board.

		for the Company and its stakeholders, the Board shall: a. Adopt a process of selection to ensure a mix of competent directors and officers and oversee the implementation of compensation plans and professional development programs for officers and succession planning for senior management; b. Oversee Management's formulation and implementation of sound strategic policies and guidelines on major capital expenditures, business strategies, plans and policies and periodically evaluate Management's overall performance; c. Provide oversight with regard to enterprise risk management;	Independent Directors, as much as possible, are to be in attendance during Board meetings to promote transparency. In addition to these, the following are expectations from Independent Directors: a. Providing clearer and wider view of external factors affecting the Company and its environment as input to Strategic Planning. b. Non-bias and objective monitoring of the performance of executive management, especially in the achievement of the Company goals and strategies. c. Help connect the Company's business and the Board with networks of potentially useful people and organizations. d. They are expected to provide the true and fair reflection of the Company's actions and financial performance and that the necessary internal controls are in place and regularly assessed and monitored. Currently, the Company's Independent Directors are appointed as Chairpersons of Nomination, Compensation and Audit Committee.

		m. Appoint a Compliance Officer or in the absence of such appointment, the Corporate Secretary, preferably, shall act as Compliance Officer.
Accountabilities	The executive director is accountable to the shareholders of the Company as they are involved in the day-to-day activities of the Company and are responsible for execution of business strategies and plans.	The Board shall ensure that stockholders are provided with a balanced and comprehensible assessment of the Company's performance, position and prospects on a quarterly basis, including interim and other reports that could adversely affect its business, as well as reports to regulators that are required by law.	Independent directors likewise share the same accountability to the shareholders. They are expected to maintain their independence from Management and exercise independent judgment in carrying out their responsibilities as director of the Company.
Deliverables	The Executive Director presents a monthly update on the progress of Management in achieving set goals and targets, report major opportunities and potential risks and provide any information the Board requires concerning the business operations of the Company.	The Non-Executive directors support the Board by attending and participating in all Board and committee meetings in order to fulfill their accountabilities. They will give independent perspective in their oversight function and engagement of Management. They will help ensure that Management formulates and implements sound strategic policies and guidelines on major capital expenditures, business strategies, plans and policies and periodically evaluate Management's overall performance. Ensure that appropriate policies and procedures are adopted in accordance with this Revised Manual and applicable laws and regulations, including conflict of interest and related party transactions, among others.	The Independent directors, being chairmen of the Nomination, Compensation and Audit Committees, lead the programs and policy formulation in these respective committees.

Provide the company's definition of "independence" and describe the company's compliance to the definition.

Independence is defined as having no business or other relationship with the Company that could reasonably be perceived to materially interfere with the exercise of independent director's judgment in carrying out his responsibilities as a director. Our independent directors, namely, Mr. George Goduco and Mr. Gary Huang have no business or other relationship with the Company which may interfere with the exercise of their judgment in carrying out their responsibilities as independent directors.

Pursuant to the applicable rules and regulations of the SEC, independent directors are nominated and elected in the Annual Stockholders' Meeting and each director issues a certification confirming his independence within 30 days from his election.

Does the company have a term limit of five consecutive years for independent directors? If after two years, the company wishes to bring back an independent director who had served for five years, does it limit the term for no more than four additional years? Please explain.

In compliance with Memorandum Circular No. 9 series of 2011, issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission, effective January 2, 2012, Independent director (ID) can serve as such for five (5) consecutive years, provided that service for a period of at least six (6) months shall be equivalent to one (1) year, regardless of the manner by which the ID position was relinquished or terminated.

After completion of the five-year service period, an ID shall be ineligible for election as such in the Company unless the ID has undergone a "cooling off" period of two (2) years, provided that during such period, the ID concerned has not engaged in any activity that under existing rules disqualifies a person from being elected as ID in the Company.

An ID re-elected as such in the Company after the "cooling off" period can serve for another five (5) consecutive years.

After serving as ID for ten (10) years, the ID shall be perpetually barred from being elected as such in the Company, without prejudice to being elected as ID in other companies outside of the business conglomerate.
